STRONG SUPERSEDED IN MEXICO CITY POST

Henry Lane Wilson Not Only ber of years at Tangler, was appoint-Foreign Envoy to Be Withdrawn.

Rev. James Strong, a sporting parson of great territorial possessions and much political influence, in 1803, for his services in helping to bring about the union between England and Ireland. The second baronet was one of the gentlemen in waiting to the prince regent, and the family has always been identified with Ireland, although it originally hailed from Scotland, and was flourishing at Balcaske, in County Fife, in 1363. The first to establish himself in Ireland was Matthew Strong, who was warden of Lifford, in County Donegal, at the end of the side Francis Strong is descended from the patriotic Lord Charlemont, of "Irish Volunteers" renown, and is married to a lady of the Fraser of Sal-
